

"Before I was suffering from asthma on a daily basis. This made it difficult to keep up with my kids, exercise, ect. It was very frustrating to deal with. Since becoming a patient of Dr. Amanda Lynn, she has really taken the time to listen and hear about my symptoms. She was patient with me and took the time to discuss treatment options. After 1 week of Dr. Amanda's treatment plan I was feeling better than I had in YEARS!! I am still feeling great thanks to Dr. Amanda Lynn. SHE ROCKS!"

About us

Amanda Lynn Daeges, ND, is an alumna to the country's oldest naturopathic school in Portland, Oregon, the National College of Natural Medicine. Dr. Amanda Lynn has been immersed herself in studying or working in alternative medicine for the last decade. Licensed in Oregon for 13 years as a massage therapist. Amanda has expanded her studies across the United States; focusing on Clinical Sports Medicine and Master's work in Expressive Arts Therapy in Cambridge, MA., Spa treatments in Lake Tahoe, Energy-Spiritual work in Hawaii, Herbals apprenticeships in Eugene, OR. Amanda's treatments are holistic. Now as a Family Medicine Physician her work has gone to a new level of finding the cause and correcting the body's dysfunction. I work by supporting You and Your body's innate ability to heal itself with conservative, less toxic and just as powerful treatments. Born and raised in the area, Amanda cares about the wellness of her community and is excited to bring Naturopathic medicine from the old country into your home.
